

Cabin Scenting

Sit Back and Relax

Introducing a world-first innovation in interior cabin scenting for commercial aviation. Use the powerful influence of scent to add a new dimension to your flight experience and elevate your brand.

Passengers are increasingly aware of their surroundings, and expect the same comfort they are accustomed to on the ground. Each of the five senses are stimulated during flight, where airlines provide enjoyable food, comfortable seats, soothing lighting, and quality in flight-entertainment. However, a well-designed scent that can significantly increase passenger comfort and provide a luxurious experience to the flight is often overlooked. In addition to positively influencing your passengers' experience, a signature scented cabin is an effective way to increase brand awareness by consistently using a recognizable scent on your airline throughout the passengers' flight journey.

State-of-the-Art Technology

At Fokker Services Group, we go above and beyond pure aircraft maintenance. In collaboration with the most refined scent specialists, we have created a unique Cabin Scenting solution. This product has been designed to increase passenger comfort, improve customer retention, and boost brand recognition.

With our Cabin Scenting modification, your flight can benefit from utilizing the same tactic that retailers have been using for years — boosting a customer's mood, appetite, and even likelihood to make in-flight purchases — all by using the power of scent. Besides passenger appeal, a scented cabin is an ideal way to increase brand recognition, create a friendly atmosphere, and improve the overall experience of flying.

The Benefits

- » Increase passenger comfort and provide a luxurious experience in all phases of flight.
- » Raise brand awareness and recognition.
- » Boost in-flight sales.

The Product

- » Distribution of scent through the air-conditioning system.
- » Program the control before or during flight.
- » Easily replaceable scenting oil cartridges.
